

You are cordially invited to the

2017 Wood Thrush Conservation Award

Honoring

MASTERWORKS FOR NATURE

with an

ART SHOW & RECEPTION

Sunday, October 1, 2017, 2-5 pm (Award Presentation at 3 pm)

$50 per person; $100 patron level

RECEPTION SPONSOR

19/19 Investment Counsel

Event and art sale proceeds benefit the Helen C. Black Conservation Fund which helps Cincinnati Nature Center protect and acquire additional land.

MASTERWORKS FOR NATURE

Masterworks for Nature is a group of Cincinnati-area artists dedicated to raising awareness and funds for conservation. Originally conceived in 1999 as "Wildlife 2000," the group has expanded and grown into Masterworks for Nature with the same core mission. These artists partner with conservation and nature education organizations to hold exhibitions and raise funds through sales and auction events. To date, they have raised over $1.3 million in gross receipts for various conservation organizations in the Cincinnati tri-state area.

PARTICIPATING ARTISTS

John Agnew, DeVere Burt, Linda Howard Bittner, Gary Denzler, Nancy Foureman, Ann Geise, Charley Harper, Mary Lousie Holt, Margi Hopkins, Debbie Lenz, Chris Rowlands, John A. Ruthven and Christopher Walden

CLICK HERE TO PURCHASE TICKETS